The Lions presented the new Raymond orchestra in the season's opening dance last Saturday night. This group is working under Grant Erickson who has had considerable training and experience.

The new dance band made a very favorable impression and had a successful beginning playing to a rather small crowd, possibly due to the town being filled with mud and fog. These boys are good—come and enjoy plenty of dancing to good music.

CARNIVAL

The carnival organization was completed on Wednesday. A fine body of men. The tickets are out—and selling. Bigger games—more games and a dying cause. The Carnival will be hard working committees will revive bigger and better. Rayo, Melvin, Max, Arlidge and Dee are going all out for the best one yet.

Lions Education

The outline for educating a good Lion is very suitable for building good citizenship. After reading the following excerpt from our Code you will want to be a Lion.

Lions Code of Ethics

1. To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation.

That phrase is found in the first of the eight paragraphs which set forth the ethics which govern the life of a Lion. It has a deep meaning, reaching down to the very roots of the impulses which move humanity. It is based on one of the fundamentals of human nature, a principle which underlies our every relation with our fellow men. Shakespeare had it in his mind when he made one of his characters say:

... "To thine own self be true, and it must follow as the night the day thou canst not then be false to any man."

The modern business man, accustomed to converting others to his own views of material things, words it thus:

"If you are not sold on a thing yourself, you need not expect to sell anyone else on it."

Faith in your own work, faith amounting to conviction—that is what counts. To hold firmly to the conviction that your business or profession is worthy of your best efforts is one of the first principles of every good Lion. To make a success of his vocation, to make his fellow men have faith in him, to be able to wield any good influence over them, he must have conviction in his own mind that his cause is a worthy one. Then he must show his faith by his works. The entire paragraph reads thus:

"To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service."

Believe to the full in your work. All honest effort is noble and it enables him who does it well. One of the finest exemplifications of this was given by the ancient Greek statesman whose enemies, thinking to make him ridiculous and humiliate him, had him elected city scavenger. It was as if the president of the United States or the governor-general of Canada, were made dog-catcher.

But instead of retiring behind a false dignity and refusing to serve,

Fog Responsible

That horrible fog on Saturday night was responsible for an accident that involved several local citizens. Just north of Wilson Siding a car driven by John Allen ran into "Bud" Sanford and Angelo Viola, hospitalizing them both. A truck then ran into the Allen car and then Bruce Galbraith stopped to see he could be of any help and his car was smashed into by another car. Miss Hedy Reithman, a passenger in the Allen car received minor injuries and 3-year-old Margaret Galbraith's jaw was broken.

Letter from Japan

We were pleased to receive this letter from Jeane Iwaasa the other day and thought you might find it interesting in its entirety.

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

I have been receiving copies of the "Raymond Recorder" for quite some time and ever since then I have been wanting to use the medium of your paper to write an article concerning some of my activities in the Mission Field, for those who have written to me and also for the general interest of the people in Raymond. First of all I wish to express my appreciation and gratitude to all those who were responsible for making my mission possible, and for the kindness extended to me and to my parents. May I assure you all that I'm very grateful for the opportunity to represent the Raymond Third Ward in this part of the world. Since my departure in June, 1948, while awaiting my clearance documents from General Headquarters in Tokyo, my time was spent in the Hawaiian Islands (till September 26, 1948). During my stay there my work consisted of carrying out the Branch affairs in one of the Districts in Honolulu and through this opportunity I came across many Latter Day Saints, from both the Hawaiian and the Central Pacific Mission, and numerous missionaries from all parts of the United States. It was then that I began to feel the preciousness and priceless value of the Gospel of our Savior. The members in the Central Pacific Mission all possessed a strong burning testimony of the Divinity of Christ and of the Church. The standards which they maintained with regard to the teachings of the Church was far above that which I have seen back in our own Wards and Stakes.

The trip to Japan with six missionaries from the Hawaiian Islands, was quiet and uneventful. After being aloft for twenty-one days, visiting the Islands of Guam, Luzon, Corregidor, Batan, Manila and Okinawa, we finally reached the "Land of the Rising Sun". To me, it should have been an exciting moment to see the land where my parents were born and raised, but the strangeness did not affect me in the least. Pres. and Sis. Chisold and five other missionaries were at the Pier to greet us and after claiming our baggage and having our documents passed, we were taken to various places in Tokyo.

Scouter Heard

446 of the 115,000 Scouts in Canada met last Tuesday in Lethbridge to hear 37-year old Maj. Gen. Spry say, "The Scout work is to help the home, the Church and the school. We are trying to teach character to the boys." Scouts and Scouters from most points in Southern Alberta were on hand with a large crowd of Raymondites attending. Everyone had a wonderful time.

The forty three year old Scout movement is in need of financial backing with each troop trying to pay its own way. Citizens of Raymond can help this good work along by buying their Christmas trees from the Boy Scouts.

Our phone number is 24.

Hi School News

We are pleased to print this week the first of a series of columns by Margaret Hussar. We do not, as yet, know what she is going to call her articles but we wish her success in her new venture.

Elections! That magic word is on everyone's lips. But when? This Friday? Next Friday? No one knows—yet. Right now things are at a lull. Except for the fact that Halloween parties are just around the corner, we could be given up as beyond any hope. The Seminary students are planning a Halloween Party for Friday, October 27th. Say, that's the night when the R. C. Y. are having their party. I hear the Triple B's are also planning a Shindig. So if you peaceful townsfolk see and hear a few shivery, mystic things, remember: It's Halloween, the lamp is lit, 'Round the fire the ghosts sit.

Let's hope everything goes off well, from Spooks Alley to Mock Funerals; and let's also see to it that there is none of this vandalistic rough stuff. 'Nu'f said.

Before we plunge into the gory details of Halloween, we students of Ye Olde Raymond High School must stand a previous shock. Just as all other schools, even perhaps a bit more than other schools, our R. H. S. has its share of good sport. Volley Ball, Track and Field, Swimming, Badminton and—let me see—oh yes! Basketball!! Now that winter lies before us, we can't very well run around outside in shorts, so we run around inside. Of course, to play basketball one must first have a team of your own and an opponent. Not wanting to be thought ignorant and backwoods, the R. H. S. has decided it needs these requisites, too. After due deliberation the Comets, Helcats and Mustangs (as our teams are called) have been chosen.

Comets: Jack Dahl; Doran Flexhaug; Rulon Fairbanks; Gerry Gough; Vede Ghilchrist; John Hudson; Mas Kitagawa; Lloyd Ralph; Gary Salmon; Gordon Snow; Ray Stevenson; Bob Dahl.

This is an exceptionally good line-up, and we feel sure that we can be proud of our Comets who are expertly coached by Mr. Jacobs.

News from the Legion

Greetings for the second consecutive week. Business is really getting better. We've had a busy week arranging the Zone Rally and surely hope to see you all there.

Does everyone know that Saturday, November 4 is Poppy Day? I don't have to remind the local citizens again the meaning of Poppy Day and the significance of this little red flower. I would, however, like to remind you that the money received from the sale of these poppies is kept right here in town for the use of the Raymond Legion Branch. Also, this money must be spent only for welfare purposes.

This year buy the large one.

I had intended to write a full report on the Dominion Convention. In brief, the Convention was held this year in Winnipeg. Because of the flood it was postponed from May to September. This year marked the Silver Jubilee of the Canadian Legion, the organization having been founded in 1925 by Field Marshall Earl Haig. Its growth has been phenomenal. There are now 2,898 Branches and Auxiliaries with an enrolled membership of over 300,000. This number is not large when you consider that there were over 1,000,000 enlistments in World War 2. The Convention was attended by 769 accredited delegates. A full business and social program was carried out over the three day period, and the Special Resolution on Total Preparedness was one of the most important passed. I will have this for publication at an early date.

New Coach for Jacks

Art Ziehn from Piedmont, California is now employed at the Red Head Service. He will fill the position of Playing Coach on the Union Jacks team this year. Last year Art was Captain of the California Mowhawk Basketball Team that played here last year.

Mrs. Owen Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Attwood were visitors in Picture Butte at the W. Hague home on Tuesday.

Home and School Assn.

A meeting of the Raymond Home and School Assn. was held last Thursday night in the Town Hall with the main topic being "Petty Thieving".

Questions were taken from the question box, discussed and referred to the proper departments.

Barbara Wing, in her talk, mentioned, among other things, that the petty thieving should and can, to a great extent, be corrected by the parents. It should not be ignored but too much fuss should not be made about it. Virginia Rolfsen brought out the psychological aspects causing the problem and also mentioned that parents should act as a good example to their children. If children are given a small allowance the temptation to steal is lessened.

Golden Snow brought out the point that a large portion of the town should be made into a school zone, and that traffic should be made to slow down when children are going and coming to school. It was decided that the Town Council should be approached with regard to this matter. Drivers are also requested to watch for preschool children who may be playing on the streets.

The evening was concluded by viewing a film of "The Great Lakes".

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Gough, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Tolstrup, went to Taber on Thursday to see the new addition to the Gough family.

Miss Flexhaug Feted

Friday evening a lovely shower was held in the Legion Hall in honor of Dorothy Flexhaug, who is to be married November 1st.

A program with Ruth Salmon as Master of Ceremonies was thoroughly enjoyed by all, starting with a group singing. Cynthia Hague delighted the gathering with a recitation "I'm A Hero", a saga of married life. A trio, Evelyn Melchin, Laura Watson and Gen Hawkins, sang "Dawning" and "Always". Mary Snow played "Melody of Love", a piano selection, and Alene and Marie Thompson sang a duet, "Some Sunday Morning". A solo, "If You Were The Only Girl In The World" was sung by Darcelle West and Cynthia gave another recitation "Goin' Fishin'", also in costume. Muriel Terry concluded the program singing "Stars Are The Windows of Heaven".

A delicious lunch was served with the girls from the Telephone Office as servers, Edna Macleod, Gene Garner, Alice Stevens, Jolayne Dahl, Sylvia Christensen and Eva Garner. Those assisting in the kitchen were Mary Thompson, Flo McKean, Evelyn Robinson, Mildred Jensen, Min Terry and Fern Thompson.

The bride-to-be then opened her numerous gifts, assisted by Jean Cooper, Phyllis Piepgrass, Janet Turner, Alene and Marie Thompson.

Gary Christian has received his missionary call to the California Mission. He is to report at the Mission Home in Salt Lake City on November sixth.

Business Changes

G.W. Willis of Maybitt has purchased the I. H. C. business from the Mercantile Company. He will take over management on November 1.

Kenneth W. Taylor, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and now Asst. Deputy Minister of Finance, was a two-day visitor at the Factory Club House this week. Some time ago he expressed a desire to see more of this country so during his personal visit with T. Geo. Wood he was shown the sugar beet industry, McIntyre's Ranch and the St. Mary's Dam project.

Capitol Theatre News

"Christopher Columbus", one of the most brilliant pictures to come out of Britain, is playing at the Capitol Theatre next Tuesday, October 31st, and Wednesday, November 1st, with a matinee on Wednesday afternoon. This masterpiece should be seen by everyone who enjoys drama and factual circumstance as well as fine entertainment. It stars Fredric March with a fine supporting cast and is in breathtaking Technicolor. Please remember this is playing next Tues. and Wed.

On Friday and Saturday of next week Bob Hope and Lucille Ball are starred in "Fancy Pants". This is Bob's first picture in Technicolor and it is really a "dilly".

On Thursday next we are presenting "Rose of Washington Square" which stars the late Al Jolson and Alice Faye. This is entertainment plus.

ROTE SPOKS

Monday saw a good turn out of Rotarians for their weekly meeting. They were well rewarded for as usual their thriving appetites were well taken care of by the Ladies Auxiliary and by a talk from Howard Melchin.

I have commented often in this column upon the excellent quality of the meals provided for the Rotes and Jim Grant has been one of the most enthusiastic supporters of my remarks. Alas, I learned Monday that a far different tale about these meals reaches the ears of his wife. Connie believes that these meals are just so-so and Jim is so happy to return, after Mondays, to her cooking. Just in case Connie gets the general idea and true state of affairs through these columns, I am incorporating a poem for Jim's edification.

The Retreat Courteous

Doesn't matter how long you've been married, Or how near to Perfection your wife; Though you're each of you meant for the other, There are bound to be moments of strife.

She might tell you your ties are disgraceful, Or remind you of money you owe; But for heaven's sake, brother, don't argue, And when things get too hot for you, blow!

Though her charges be perfectly groundless, Keep your mouth shut and buttoned my lad; There's no merit whatever to justice When it means that you act like a cad.

Though it's tempting to strike the defensive, I suggest that you swallow your pride, Or else you'll spell "marital", "marital" And "united" will change to "untitled".

Howard Melchin exposed the "black market" in cars for us. After the harrowing experiences he related, through which he came unscathed and unspotted, these jaded eyes gaze upon him with new admiration. If now I should approach Melchin Motors for a new automobile and am asked to pay $100, more than list I will know just what this represents in blood, sweat and tears. Will I squawk? Don't be silly, go thou and do likewise.

One reads so much of the U. N. in today's papers and magazines. Will it last, or is it merely another "League of Nations"? Is it doing any good? Well, the Korean Affair would seem to prove its worth. By courtesy of "The Condulet" let us examine this organization further.

Your Future Needs Your Help Today The most insistent sound in the world today comes not from the halls of government, not from the meeting rooms of diplomats, but from the hearts of the people of all the world. This sound is a swelling voice asking, urging, demanding that we do not abandon the United Nations but strengthen it and make it the instrument by which nations may live together in peace and march together toward a better, healthier, safer future.

The attainment of lasting peace is, of course, the predominant goal of

About 10:00 one morning a week or had done a work of wonder on the so ago, Nephi, Roxie's brother, phoned home, had a table laid with our best from Lethbridge saying that he, his mother and two Aunts from the States would be here for dinner at about 1 p.m. Glory be! We had nothing in the house to feed guests (we were planning on having pork and beans or fried eggs or such like things ourselves) but that didn't worry me for a few minutes — I kept right on feeding the press when all of a sudden I was impressed by the short time we had to do a lot of things.

Rushing over to our friend who operates a furniture store (Thompson's) I borrowed his vehicle to go home to warn my good and lovely wife of the forthcoming event. Glad I did too 'cause by no stretch of the imagination could one say our house and harder were prepared for a visit by two Aunts neither of us had ever met — the family folks we weren't scared of.

With a little rush here and a little rush there, things began to hum — down to the butchers, into the store, home where my wife insisted I shave, down town again for a cake mix (wonderful things) which I gave to our good neighbor Mrs. Hawkins to bake for us (can't do a cake and roast in one oven, I'm told).

There were important things to do at home and at the shop so I left "the boss" in charge of operations in the home field and came back to work on a job here and await their arrival. At almost one I could stand it no longer so started walking home. Down by the new office of Southern Road they drove up and gave me a lift. As soon as we arrived at our "little grey home in the west" I dashed in to announce our presence to Roxie, who in the short space of a couple of hours house, had a table laid with our best and a mouth-watering dinner all prepared (except for the cake, which Nephi and I went to get). Just as we were going back to the house with the cake, the fire siren started so, like a good reporter, off we went to see about it. As told before it turned out to be a dummy run so back to home where a dinner fit for a king (no, two kings) awaited us.

A roast, done to perfection, creamed potatoes with a brown gravy just like your mother used to try to make, (me, I'm a lover of good gravy and I was completely satisfied — no mean trick to do) peas and a delicious salad, for which I would suggest you get the recipe. To make sure everyone was satisfied, strawberries and whipped cream was combined with the cake which Mrs. Hawkins baked, to fill up the corners.

May I state again at this time that I have a real treasure for a wife. She works as a partner at the shop until the wee small hours of most mornings and still finds time to be a very wonderful wife and housekeeper.

After dinner Nephi and I came down to the shop where, with his help, I run off 1,000 envelopes in 33 minutes — a record for this shop as far as I'm concerned. The older ladies had a snooze after helping with the dishes (good kids) and after awhile Nephi and I went back to get them to show them a little of our own. We visited at the Stake House with Joe Hicks who was a neighbor of the Aunts many years ago in Utah. After this visit they headed back to Lethbridge to keep an appointment.

The four hours they were here were very enjoyable and it was a pleasure to meet Roxie's relatives.

Oscar Johnson, formerly of Raymond and now of B.C. was a business visitor here this week. He brought in a load of posts in and took a load of coal back.

The Women's Association of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Karl Wilde recently, and members are requested to bring their bazaar items to the next meeting.

By Nancy Cleaver
 Halloween Fun

The end of October with its celebration of Halloween is the time of fun and frolic, whose origin goes far back in time. The ancient Romans, early in November, had a festival in honor of Pomona, the Goddess of fruit trees. The Druids in Britain had a festival in honor of the Sun god and in thanksgiving for the harvest. They believed Samon, lord of death, called together the witches on that night.

In the Middle Ages in Britain many people believed that the spirits of the dead were allowed to return and visit their homes on Halloween. The eve of this festival came to be called "All Hallow E'en", with hallow having the same meaning as our word 'holy'. The early Church fathers kept this and many other festivals, which had a pagan beginning and gave them a Christian significance.

In the Junior grade of Public School the students have a happy time drawing illustrations of witches and black cats and pumpkins, and making decorations. Mother and Dad may think these "art treasures" a bit crude, but they have been fun to make and here is always value in satisfying effort. Do not fall your youngster by not taking an interest in the drawing or hand work he brings home for you to see!

In homes where there are three, four or five year olds who are longing to "do things", an investment in an orange poster paint jar is a good idea. A three year old will likely paint the whole sheet orange, but an older child can draw and color pumpkins.

These little poster paint pots are more satisfactory for a small child's use than the usual paint box and they are not much more expensive because they do last a long time.

Spread out newspapers on a table or the kitchen floor if you have no easel; give your child a large sheet of paper and then let him go ahead and paint whatever he likes! He needs no adult directions for this activity!

A boy's or girl's interest in gardening can be linked with Halloween if a child is allowed to plant pumpkin seeds in the Spring. No grownup gardener will watch the growth of the vines, flowers and pumpkin with more intense interest than a youngster who has his own garden plot. With what pride he will cut out a pumpkin's face from his own pumpkin! But even if he hasn't had a garden, whenever possible do arrange for the children in your home to carve out at least one "Jack O'Lantern". The cost is small compared to the pleasure which this will give each youngster who has a part in it.

Children love to "dress up" and Halloween gives them the opportunity to plan as an original costume as their hearts could desire! A "Dress-up Box" in the attic or store room with discarded dresses, hats, gloves, scarves etc. and a "Make-up Box" can save a frantic search for costumes. On rainy days and for impromptu dramatics, this "Dress-up Box" saves the day. If you haven't one in your home, why not plan to start one now?

the United Nations. This goal is still for beyond the horizon, and the road to it is long, hard and hazardous. Long hard and hazardous, but not hopeless.
or not the United Nations will achieve his goal. But it does seem that it is Nobody can say at this time whether our only hope today, and as such that it deserves the fervent support of us all.

And while it has not yet succeeded in this field where all else has failed, it has brought to many other fields great accomplishments of united action.

The world, all the world, is a better place for children because of the United Nations. The forests of the world are being less wasted, and the soil of the world richer because of the United Nations. The hunger of the world is being lessened, its food made more plentiful, because of the United Nations. Diseases that have destroyed peoples since the beginning of history are being brought under control by the United Nations. Understanding and enlightening are marching forward with education under the banner of the United Nations. These are no small accomplishments for an organization that is only five years old this year.

Let not the defeats within the Conference rooms, with all their drama and headlines blind us to the good that the United Nations has brought to the world and to the desirability of keeping both the organization and the good intact. Let us now lead the way in the principle. "In Union there is Strength; in UN there is hope!"

We MUST support the United Nations — today's best hope for peace.

Until next week then, this is your

LIONS

the noble Greek announced that he meant to be the best scavenger the city ever had; that instead of being dishonored by the job he would honor the job. It may have been unpleasant work, yes; but dispicable, no. He knew that cleanliness was necessary to the community life; that while cleaning garbage from the streets was in itself not esthetic, without it all the poetry, all the art, all the culture that was Greece would pass away.

That old Greek would have made a first class Lion. He realized that all honest work is ennobling, and that the only degrading about work is work ill done or in an unworthy cause. His ideal was that perfect service which should show his faith in the worthiness of his vocation, and he so applied himself that he made the whole world recognize and acknowledge its worth.

Choose a worthy vocation and then love it and work at it with all your heart. No man can make a real success of his calling, whatever it be, unless his whole heart is in it. The man who loves to wash windows, who puts his heart into making the panes shine like crystals, is an artist; the painter, no matter what his genius, who has not full faith in his art, who dabbles in a half-hearted manner with brushes and produces results unworthy of him, is less an artist than the conscientious street-cleaner.

Love your vocation, manifest your love by your work, and so make others see its worthiness.

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Alma Hancock were Cardston visitors on Wednesday and en route home they stopped for a Genealogy meeting in Magrath.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gough of Taber are the proud parents of a 6 lbs. 1 oz. baby girl born in the Taber Hospital on Wednesday.

E. W. Mayo, editor of the magazine "Sugar" of New York City, is a guest at the Factory Club House. He is here to gather material for an article on the new factory at Taber.

The water was shut off for a couple of hours on Thursday to allow town workmen to hook up another hydrant. We don't really appreciate an everyday thing like water service until we are without one for a while do we?

Last week our press broke down but good so we went to Magrath with our pages and had them printed on their press. My dad came over on Monday and with a little help from Lowell Court and yours truly got our little old press going again—we hope!
